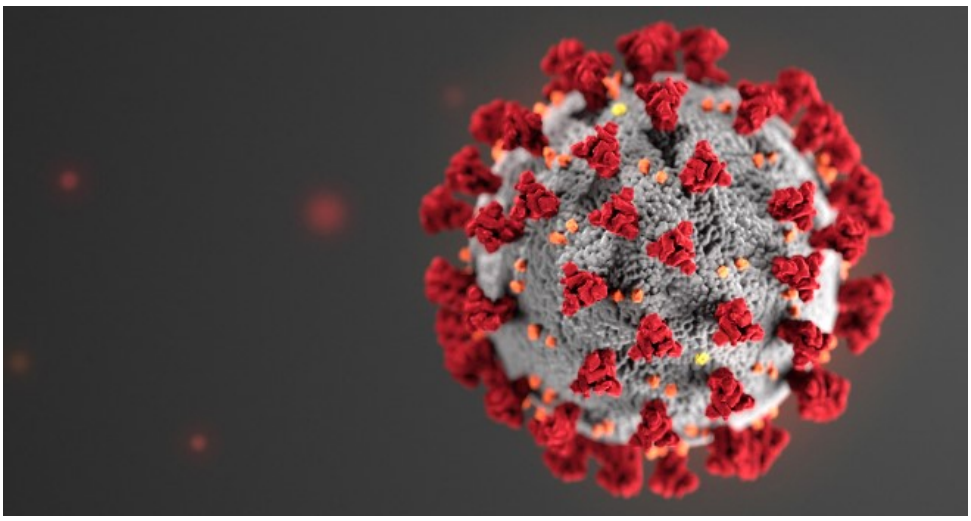
Reporting COVID-19 Fraud



U.S. Attorney's Office
District of Maine

The U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Maine urges the public to remain vigilant for coronavirus fraud:

- Anyone selling fake testing kits, treatments, or cures for COVID-19
- Hoarding or price-gouging of necessary supplies
- Threats to intentionally infect individuals with COVID-19
- Websites seeking donations for illegitimate or nonexistent COVID-19 charities
- Fraudulent phone calls from individuals posing as health insurers seeking personal information
- Phishing emails from entities posing as the CDC or WHO, which may contain malware
- Robocalls offering medical supplies with no intent to deliver
- Websites claiming to provide stimulus funds when consumers input their bank information
- Fraudulent medical billing for procedures related to COVID-19
- Threats to public officials advocating quarantines

Report suspected fraud to the Disaster Fraud Hotline:
